

HASHTAGS

Please, use these hashtags to help spread the message: #darktunescompilation #sanctuarycz

INSTAGRAM POSTS

Version 1

With all goth events cancelled, it can be difficult to discover new music. Sure there must be something more at this scene, right? Listen to the latest compilation from the very heart of Europe for free.

Version 2

Listened to all your fav goth songs far too many times during this neverending lockdown? Do yourself a favour - explore 25 fresh tracks from the heart of Europe for free.

FACEBOOK POSTS

Version 1

With all goth events cancelled, it can be difficult to discover new music. It's equally hard for new artists to connect with their tribe.

That is why the "Dark Tunes from Czech and Slovak Caves II" compilation is worth checking. 25 carefully picked fresh new tracks ranging from trad goth through darkwave and neofolk to dark electro coming from the very heart of Europe. Available for free right here. So, who will be your next favourite from the lands of Kafka, golem, or Elisabeth Báthory?

Version 2

Have you listened to all your fav goth songs far too many times during this neverending lockdown? Do yourself a favour – explore something new! The latest compilation "Dark Tunes from Czech and Slovak Caves II", introduces 25 fresh names from the very heart of Europe - from trad goth through darkwave and neofolk to dark electro. And you know what? It's for free! Check it out right here:

Version 3

Let's get real – how many times did you hear "Temple of Love" during Covid? Or "Kathy's song"? Or "Call the ships to port?" Sure there must be more at this scene somewhere, right?

Dive into the fresh waters of the "Dark Tunes from Czech and Slovak Caves II" compilation, introducing 25 new tracks from the very heart of Europe: Musically ranging from trad goth through darkwave and neofolk to dark electro, so there's something for everyone.

And you know what? It's free, you have nothing to lose.